GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Brothers,

I would like to thank all of you for the hard work this past two months. You all are the reason our council is so successful and able to provide so much to our parish and community. Your efforts are truly appreciated!

Our Columbian year is almost over, which means a new year is about to start. With that comes a new set of officers and fresh ideas. This month's meeting we will be accepting nominations for those officer positions for the 2019-20 year. If you are interested, you do not have much time to let someone know. Our next business meeting is set for May 7 at 7 PM in Fr.

O'Hare Hall.

During April's meeting, we voted to donate $20,000 to St. Joseph's Church to help with the expansion of the sacristy and restrooms. The vote passed, and we presented the parish with a check. I would like to thank all the brothers that attended and made this possible.

We have a few events remaining the next two months, and I hope to see you there. First, we have the Blessings Breakfast, where we help the parish by cooking for the free event. Secondly, we are planning a picnic on June 1, more details to follow. Lastly, we have the Installation/Kick-out of new and old officers; this will be a catered event free for our Knights and their families. More information will be sent out by our Deputy Grand Knight, Tim Matalone.

See you all soon,
Vivat Jesus,
Larry Kjellberg,
Grand Knight

FINANCIAL SECRETARY'S REPORT

A Table of Memories

I got to thinking the other day about what I might write this month. The editor suggested something, and I filed it away; and then it started to come to me.

I first set out on my own when I moved to Colorado in 1980.

One of my first purchases was a simple kitchen table set at the local JC Penney store. Nearly 40 years later, that table is still in our home, though we replaced the chairs. But I thought – that table has memories. That table was where I cooked my first meal on my own away from home.

That table moved with me to southern California a few years later.

That table was where I spent many an evening trying to perfect my technique in the kitchen to cook up my favorite recipes from mom. The part that always tripped me up was when the measurement called for "...to taste."

That table moved with me later to a bit closer to where I worked in LA. It was the same table that I got to treat my future wife to a dinner when she visited my place for the first time.

Time marched on and the table and I moved to San Diego. But fate (or God?) stepped in again and more memories were created. We spent a vacation in San Diego and we got to spend many a meal during that time in between visits to the beaches, Sea World and yes, Disneyland.

Life's journey was not done with me yet. The table and I packed it up and moved to northern California and began an experience in Silicon Valley (before the housing prices got out of whack).

The table saw visits from Lorna's sister and her husband. Another vacation that included Fisherman's Wharf, Giant's game, the beaches at Half Moon bay. We took turns cooking in the kitchen that time and well, all of us must have gained a few pounds, but we were happy.

There were even times of cooking a birthday treat for Lorna to share with her airline friends on the flight home to Manila.

Time went by. The DOT COM experience beckoned and then another chapter unfolded. One cold day in December 2003, we made the trip to Reno and got married. That table was now a table for a family. It was no longer my table, it was our table. The DOT COM thing came to an end and a new experience in Modesto was our next stop. The table got packed into a truck and made the journey over the Altamont Pass to a new home.

The table hosted a giant Thanksgiving dinner one year, Lorna's sister and her husband and daughter were there. Lorna's mom from the Philippines was there. I even dared to cook a turkey (to perfection!). Memories were served.

The table is still the center of our kitchen. Our meals, our preparation for other chores, such as what a financial secretary might do.

We've shared Christmas and other holiday dinners at this table, maybe even putting a table cloth on it to dress it up.

Our grandchild was the newest visitor to this table and she got to share some meals with grandma.

Nearly 40 years later and for just a bit over $100, the table is still serving up memories. Maybe you have a table like that, too. But our table pales in comparison to another table in our history. That would be the table of the Last Supper.

Every Sunday we celebrate the memory of or from that table – the body and blood when we partake of communion.

A table over 2,000 years ago — a lasting memory.

Nothing to report this month.

JOHN'S JOKES

More Golf Rules for Seniors!

Rule 5 - Putts that stop close enough to the cup that they could be blown in, may be blown in. This does not apply to balls more than three inches from the hole. No one wants to make a mockery of the game.

Rule 6.a.9(k) - There is no penalty for so-called "out of bounds." If penny-pinching golf course owners bought sufficient land, this would not occur. The senior player deserves an apology, not a penalty.

Rule 7.G.15(z) - There is no penalty for a ball in a water hazard, as golf balls should float. Senior players should not be penalized for any shortcomings of the manufacturers.

Rule 8.k.9(S) - Advertisements claim that golf scores can be improved by purchasing new golf equipment. Since this is financially impractical for many senior players, one-half stroke per hole may be subtracted for using old equipment.

You should keep multiple copies of these rules in your bag for those who do not have them. After all, we do not want to make a mockery of the game. Golf is a game of integrity!

PRAYER REQUESTS

Happy Easter 2019!

He said to them, "Do not be amazed! You seek Jesus of Nazareth, the crucified. He has been raised; he is not here. Behold the place where they laid him. But go and tell his disciples and Peter, 'He is going before you to Galilee; there you will see him, as he told you.'
Mark 16; 6-7.
